

The 10 of Swords Imagery- Exercise 12

The 10 of Swords image below, bears a red hue that spreads across the card's blue landscape. The red hue smudges across the swords but less one sword which is positioned by the figure's neck. Nine of the Swords still bear the mark of blood except the one sword. Is this the final sword that was laid to make the 10 swords and if so, why is that sword not soiled with the blood as the others are?
